Day 1

Italy / Syracuse

📍 Island, Town

Syracuse, located on the eastern coast of the island of Sicily in Italy, is a beautiful port city with a rich history dating back to ancient times. The port of Syracuse has been an important hub for trade and commerce for centuries, connecting the Mediterranean to the rest of the world. Today, it is a popular destination for cruise ships and cargo vessels alike, offering visitors stunning views of the sea and access to the city's many historic landmarks, including the ancient Greek Theater, the Roman Amphitheater, and the charming Ortigia Island.

Day 2

Italy / Taormina

📍 Town, Island

Taormina is a charming coastal town located in the eastern coast of Sicily, Italy. Known for its picturesque beauty and ancient Greek theater, Taormina has become a popular tourist destination in recent years. The town's port serves as a gateway to the Ionian Sea, offering visitors the opportunity to explore the region's stunning beaches, crystal clear waters, and scenic landscapes. The port is also a starting point for several cruises and excursions, making it a popular stop for travelers exploring the Mediterranean.

Italy / Milazzo

📍 Island, Town

The port of Milazzo is a significant transportation hub in the northeast of Sicily. With its strategic location in the middle of the Mediterranean, Milazzo has been an essential gateway to the Aeolian Islands, Naples, and the south of Italy for centuries. The port is well-connected to the mainland, with ferries and hydrofoils running regularly to Naples, Reggio Calabria, and other destinations along the coast. The port also serves as a popular departure point for day trips to the stunning Aeolian Islands, where visitors can enjoy pristine beaches, crystal-clear waters, and charming villages.

Day 3

Italy / Lipari

📍 Island, Village

Lipari is a small island located in the Tyrrhenian Sea and the main port of the Aeolian Islands, a volcanic archipelago off the coast of Sicily. The port of Lipari is an important hub for tourism and transportation, connecting the islands to the mainland and other nearby destinations. With its stunning views of the sea and the surrounding hills, Lipari is a popular destination for those looking to enjoy the beauty and serenity of the Italian coast.

Italy / Vulcano

📍 Island, Village

The port of Vulcano, located on the island of Vulcano in the Aeolian archipelago, is a popular destination for tourists seeking relaxation and adventure. With its crystal clear waters and black volcanic sand beaches, the port offers a variety of activities such as swimming, snorkeling, and hiking to the top of the island's active crater. In addition, the port serves as a gateway to explore the other islands in the archipelago, including Stromboli and Lipari.

Day 4

Italy / Marettimo

📍 Island, Village, Secluded

Marettimo is a small island off the west coast of Sicily, Italy, with a stunning and unspoiled natural environment. The port of Marettimo is the main gateway to this tranquil island, with boats arriving from Trapani on a regular basis. The port provides a calm and relaxing atmosphere for visitors, surrounded by clear blue waters and the island's lush greenery. It is an ideal destination for those seeking a peaceful holiday and the chance to explore a natural paradise.
