Croatia / Mljet

Island, Greenery, Secluded

Mijet is a majestic picturesque island covered with green pine forests in the southern part of Dalmatia region of Croatia and is tightfully nicknamed the "Green Island". Despite its tranquil magic and untouched nature Mijet is not among the list of the most popular travel destinations. The island has rich history and was a home to many different cultures. Mijet was known in the ancient Greek world under the name of Melita, which means honey. The western part of the island is a National Park and from the times the beauty of this alluring island had captivated Odysseus, its charm remains undisputable. Relish it's rustic peaceful atmosphere and feel the time slowing down in Mijet.

Croatia / Hvar

Greenery, Popular, Town, Island

It gets almost 2,800 hours of sunshine per year. There is however enough rain to keep the island green and to maintain the beautiful fields of lavender, rosemary, sage, marjoram and thyme and the carefully cultivated vineyards.

Croatia / Trogir

Island, Mainland port, Town

Trogir was founded by the Greek colonists as a major port in the 3rd century BC and was then known under the name of Tragurion. The town has flourished in the 13-15 centuries. Its gorgeous historic center with its elegant Baroque and Renaissance facades, palaces and Romanesque churches looks more like an outdoor museum than a real town and was rightfully acknowledged by UNESCO a World Heritage Site. Trogir is one of the most beautiful towns and islands in the whole world and a true jewel for a curious traveler.
